KENTUCKY REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

We are opposed to the free and unlimited extension of credit, believing that it should involve the country in financial ruin. We believe in a sound currency and in the use of gold and silver coinage, provided always that a dollar issue is made precisely as valuable as a dollar in the market.

We favor a tariff so regulated as to protect the interests of all classes of our citizens upon articles that may be successfully manufactured or produced in this country, thus securing good wages to the laborer and a home market for the producer; and in connection with this we favor the re-establishment of the doctrine of reciprocity.

We believe that such a system will defray the Government's expense, gradually liquidate all its indebtedness, restore public confidence and relieve to the very end the undue straitening now prevailing concerning the currency. In view of the past financial history of the Democratic party, we believe in the old state bank system and solid tenders, we affirm that the Republican party will be more fully trusted to re-establish the financial system of the Nation.

We favor an American policy which will protect American and American interests in any part of the world at all hazards and will stand up with struggling Republics rather than support monarchies.

Uncle Sam's Shortage.

The deficit in the National Treasury for the present fiscal year—from July 1st to date—is $19,035,044 43.

EX-PRESIDENT BENJAMIN HARRISON has broken a long list of declarations to address public assemblies and will appear on the platform Thursday night at Indianapolis with General JOHN B. GORDON of Confederate fame. General HARRISON will introduce the ex-Confederate, and it is expected will say something on the results of the war and its relations to the two sections.

It is claimed by some that the contest over the Senatorship on the Republican side is a fight between Mason and Lewis candidates. Not so; but it is a contest between Democracy and Degeneracy. However, as both the Democratic candidate and the so-called Republican candidate are citizens of Lewis county, it looks very much like the fight was a two-sided affair, with Mason as a "looker by in Vienna," but favoring the cause of Democracy.

Down at Benton there was held an election in connection with the war question. The designs used on the ballot were a Bible and a jug—the Bible for the Prohibitionists and the jug for the whiskey men. The effect was disastrous to the whiskey men, as the strain was too much for most of the veteran voters. They saw the Bible, and couldn't vote that night even if they wanted license, and the election went very much "dry."

The local river men at Pittsburgh are not disposed to wait on Uncle Sam to clean out the channel of the Ohio, but have concluded to undertake some of the work themselves. In accordance with this resolution Captain Dippold and a crew of men commenced work Saturday in removing the bar which has formed at Duff's, and the Coal Exchange has decided to have the bar at Longtown removed at its expense. Captain Dippold has a shore cutter plowing up the sand and gravel, and men are leveling off the bar. There is no water to interrupt the work, and progress is rapid. It is expected to give the boats six inches more leeway as the result of these sand dunes.

WAR TALK.

Senator Chandler Predicts Trouble With Great Britain.

It Will Arise on Account of British Disregard of Our Direct Interests.

England's Brutality and Avarice Must Be Repressed. It will be the duty of the United States to do this.

New York, Oct. 30.—A special to the World from Concord, N. H., says: "The British are under the captain 'Our Coming War With England—A Prediction.' Senator Chandler gave at this following statement: 'War between the United States and England is inevitable. It will arise on account of British disregard of our direct interests. It will also be forced by British avarice upon other nations all over the world. It will be fought by us, having Russia as a European ally. As a war offensive on our part it may not happen within twenty years; as a defensive war it may come sooner, and should be welcomed. A sure result will be the capture and permanent acquisition of Canada by the United States. England proposes to seize from the United States a portion of Alaska. She is destroying independent governments in all parts of the globe. Her trade American sentiment and remembrance with insolence and defiance.

"For the vindication of the Monroe doctrine in the western hemisphere and the protection of these independent governments in the eastern hemisphere and the islands of the ocean it is necessary that the United States should prepare for war with England. It had better come now than twenty years from now. We ought to define our position and say that if it is not as to we shall fight to maintain it."

It will take some time to prepare for an offensive war, but a defensive war can come now too soon. Let England begin. Russia will be our ally. She is the great absolute monarchy and the United States the great republic of the world. The former needs and is entitled to a seaport in a warm region, of which England persistently deprives her, but she wants no more territory. The United States wants only the Sandwich Islands and a foothold in the West Indies. Together they can defy the world. They must and will restrain the brutality and bloody avarice of Great Britain. Let this be understood at once and let England strike the first blow if she dares. A million of men will overrun Canada, and England's commercial ships will be swept from the ocean. England has no right to exist. We ought to begin if it is necessary to save to Venezuela the mouth of the Orinoco."

Portland, Ore., Oct. 30.—Ex-Senator J. N. Dolph, who was for several years a prominent member of the foreign relations committee of the United States senate, in an address delivered at the Channing club on the foreign policy of the United States, said of the Venezuelan question: "There are but two courses for the United States to pursue, one of which is to abandon the Monroe doctrine and to no longer protest against European aggression, monarchical domination on this hemisphere, and to join to the handful of such a course would bring upon us. The other is to enforce our policy concerning affairs on this continent by protest and if necessary by intervention and the ultimate arbitration of the sword. We should also extend to Cuba the Monroe doctrine and take the stand under the protection of the American flag, if necessary."

NICARAGUA CANAL.

The Engineer Commission Will Recommend That It Be Built.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—It was stated privately on Tuesday that the report of the engineer commission which visited Nicaragua last summer will recommend the building of the Nicaragua canal. The commission's report will be in the hands of the president this week. While the commission have been reticent in discussing the details of the report, there are strong grounds for the belief that it will endorse the route already surveyed with some modifications, that it will recommend that the canal be built by the government, and will estimate the cost of the waterway to be at least $100,000,000.

A. B. and L. Association fails.

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—The Western Building and Loan association filed articles of assignment to the St. Louis Trust Co. Tuesday. The assets are placed at $100,000, but no statement of liabilities is given. It is believed, however, that the latter will nearly equal the assets.

FOREIGN POLICY

Long Session Held by the President and His Advisers.

The Principal Topics Discussed Related to Cuba and Venezuela.

The Alaska Boundary Dispute Was Also Considered. Secretary Dinsmore's Disposition to Back Down From His Position as the Monroe Doctrine.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A Washington special to the Evening Press says: From 11 o'clock Tuesday until 1:30 the president's advisers remained with him. This is at least an hour and a half more time than is usually taken for a regular session of the cabinet. The whole foreign complications in which this government is mixed up were discussed. The principal topics related to Cuba and Venezuela. Owing to the fact that data desired in connection with the Venezuela and Guiana boundary has not yet come to hand, there was no definite action taken relative to that dispute.

The discussion was very lively, and Secretary Olney showed no disposition to recede from the advanced position which he had assumed in connection with the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine according to his views as to what that doctrine means.

The Alaska boundary dispute was also a subject of some discussion, but inasmuch as Sir Julian Pauncefote's proposition has not been submitted to the president, no action was taken looking to a joint commission to survey the boundary line of the one hundred and forty-first meridian.

The cabinet, while discussing the exact application of the Monroe doctrine about the Venezuela dispute, is certainly unanimous in one thing, and that is should support the policy of Secretary Olney's notes before congress assemblies, then the whole question will be submitted to congress with all the correspondence which has passed between the governments of Venezuela, Great Britain and the United States, and congress will be asked to relieve the administration of the necessity of determining just what course shall be pursued.

ENGINEERS KILLED.

Two Passenger Trains on the Missouri Pacific Collided Near St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—Two passenger trains on the Missouri Pacific collided at Howard station, a suburb eight miles west of here at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. Two men were killed and three injured. The engines, passing on a switch and both engines and three cars of the eastbound train were completely demolished. John Howard and William Cameron, the engineers, were buried beneath their engines. Death was instantaneous. Fireman George Trex and George Dunbar were severely injured. The engines and cars were more or less shocked. Buck Taylor, the Wild West showman, a passenger on the eastbound train, had his leg broken. The engines and cars were used for suburban traffic. The eastbound train had but few passengers, while the westbound train carried a theater party going home to the suburbs. The accident was the result of a blunder. The two trains should have met four miles further west, but Engineer Cameron, of the eastbound train, tried to reach the Howard station in time to meet the other train. Both trains were running slowly and a momentary passing would have occurred. At midnight a wrecking crew was working to reach the bodies of the two engineers.

No Women Suffrage in South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 30.—After a fight lasting all of Monday evening and through Tuesday's session, the constitutional convention at 1:15 took a vote and say no on the question to allow women's suffrage with property and educational qualifications. The case of women qualified by a vote of 121 to 100. The Georgia constitution, which a magnificent argument of about an hour or more favoring women suffrage. Mr. Haight introduced an amendment to leave the women now on the ballot to the general assembly. He made a strong speech, but it was to no avail. The convention voted it down by a large vote, only forty-two votes being cast in favor.

Incendiary Fire.

WILLIAMSBURG, Pa., Oct. 30.—Incendiary fire broke out here Tuesday night almost simultaneously in the lumber district. The first property to catch on fire was the Radzick mill. This was followed by the Maynard street mill and the Neffey mill. The fire in the Radzick mill was extinguished after sustaining a loss of $15,000. The wind is blowing from the west and other properties Wednesday morning were burning fiercely and will probably be destroyed. The total loss will reach $75,000.

Shedders to the Heeds of a Mob.

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—A tale special to the Evening Chronicle from Tyler, Tex., says: The Negro who murdered Mr. Leonard Ball was sentenced to hang on an angry mob of five hundred men. He is a male and is positively identified. The means of death are yet undetermined, but hanging seems to be generally favored. That the Negro will be lynched is a certainty.

Later—The Negro was taken to the scene of his crime and burned at the stake.

LAGONDA HOUSE.

Springfield, O., killed by Fire—General Congress at One Time Threatened. Springfield, O., Oct. 30.—Fire was discovered in the Lagonda house about 12:30 Wednesday morning, and before it could be gotten under control the hotel was practically ruined. The fire started in the basement and was discovered by the clerk, John Bradford, who at once gave the alarm. The fire spread to the fourth floor in a remarkably short time, and several of the guests had narrow escapes. Mrs. Connel, wife of the proprietor, made her exit down the back stairs, which were a seething mass of flames, in her night clothes. In a short time the roof of the hotel fell in with a crash. The Lagonda hotel was one of the largest in the city, and the ground floor of it was occupied by a number of stores, all of which are burned out.

The following were the stores in the Lagonda: Harris' cigar store, Hype's hat store and the London Clothing Co. To the north of the Lagonda house is the Flanagan's drug store, and at an early hour Wednesday morning it seemed that the flames would spread to it. They are also spreading west, and the magnificent Commercial hotel is in danger, as are the two stores between it and the Lagonda house.

At 2:30 the Dayton fire department arrived in response to a telegram sent for aid, and both departments are engaged in a hard battle to get control of the fire. It looks now as though the fire would be kept from spreading further.

If no more buildings are burned, the loss will probably not exceed $100,000. Much of the property is covered by insurance.

Both the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph lost all their wires.

DOUBLE ELECTROCUTION.

Geo. H. Smith and Charles H. Davis Pay the Penalty for Murder at Danvers.

DANVER, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Geo. H. Smith, the murderer of Philip Richmond, of Albany, was electrocuted at the Clinton prison at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday. Smith's crime was a brutal and uncalculated for murder. The motive was robbery and in his confession Smith expressed regret and remorse, but he paid only $15 when he executed the old man had lost $40 of pension money.

Chas. H. Davis was also electrocuted at 1:30 p.m. Davis, who came to Danvers, N. Y., from Chicago, outraged and murdered Mary Shannon, of Chicago, a girl scarcely six years old, on May 15, 1900. Davis was sentenced to the most revolting and shocking in the history of criminal annals in the vicinity of Albany. He gave the girl a beating and then strangled her.

COL. WALKER.

Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, Favors the American of Cuba.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 30.—For forty years I have hoped for the restoration of Cuba to the United States," said Col. Ivan N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, at a meeting in this city to express sympathy with the Cubans. Continuing his speech, Col. Walker said that he and his friends I ever had have offered to let their lives in attempts to free Cuba from the yoke of Spain. I received a letter a few days ago from a committee in Chicago, which desires to have general Cuban meetings held all over the country on October 31. The committee asked me to give the order to the G. A. R. for the purpose of meeting and give expression to the Cuban movements. I answered that it was my duty to do so, and that I thought this land are quite capable of expressing themselves on all patriotic subjects.

American Diplomatic Backbone Stiffening in the Matter.

Secretary Olney's Mak's a Demand On the Turkish Government.

For the Rescuer of the Assassins of Miss Melton, an American Missionary—if the Demand is Not Complied With Heavy Indemnity Will Be Asked.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A Washington special to an evening paper says: Armenian societies in the United States, which have been denouncing the alleged dilatory tactics of Secretary Olney and Minister Terrell in dealing with Turkey will be pleased to learn that there has been a stiffening of the American diplomatic backbone, and the Sultan may be brought up with a sharp turn.

The present dissatisfaction grows out of the penetration of Armenian missionaries and the disposition shown by the Turkish government to treat the offenses lightly. The latest case in point is that of Miss Melton, an American missionary, who was brutally assaulted in the mountains by the bandits, in whose life is in danger for many months. Although the offense occurred a year ago the Turkish government has failed to atone for it in proper form, and has shown disposition to let the offenders escape punishment.

There were fourteen of Miss Melton's assailants and there is no doubt in Secretary Olney's mind that they were aided in their work by the connivance of local authorities in the district where it occurred. Three of them were arrested after a delay of a few months and sentenced to three years in prison. It is apparent that the sentence was a substitute for the one which would have permitted to escape and no efforts to recapture them were made.

Secretary Olney has, in the last few days, made a demand upon the Turkish government to re-arrest the three escaped prisoners, and unless this demand is promptly complied with he will demand heavy indemnity for the assault upon Miss Melton. For two years past the presence of two American warships has been required at Constantinople to watch over American citizens, and a few months ago two new consulates were established for the same purpose.

Secretary Olney declares his sympathy for the efforts of the powers to bring about a cessation of the Turkish civil war, but he insists that the Turkish government must be made to feel that he is receiving letters and petitions every day from Armenian residents in this country on the subject of the outrages.

TURKISH ACCOUNT.

Of the Troubles Between Moslems and Armenians at Sarak.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 30.—The official account of the troubles between the Moslems and Armenians at Sarak, which the Turkish government has been endeavoring to suppress, is that the Armenians were arrested with weapons in their hands. The report says that peace has been restored, but it is believed by Armenian agitators attacked and pillaged the Moslem village of Sarak, wounding some of the Moslems. The Armenians, who were the aggressors, were sent to the district at Sarak, where they were met by the Moslems and four or five of the Moslems were killed.

The fighting at Sarak resulted in the killing of 173 Moslems and 179 Armenians. The fighting at Sarak resulted in the killing of 173 Moslems and 179 Armenians. No Challenges at the Polls.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—There was a large attendance of politicians, lawyers and agitators, generally, to the judge Wilson's court at 10 a.m. Tuesday, the hour announced for the decision in the mandamus case of Robert L. Hill, for the democratic campaign committee to compel the board of elections to compel the issuance of supplementary instructions to the judges of elections so that they would admit challengers to the polls on November 5, the day of the state and county elections. The court decided against issuing such instructions. The case will be appealed to the circuit court.

Praying for Rain.

SLATER, Mo., Oct. 30.—A union meeting was held at the Baptist church Tuesday afternoon for the sole purpose of praying for rain. The amount of water has become very serious with everyone. Fire has broken out in several places in this county and the dry conditions and drought. The Chicago and Alton railroad has been hauling water from the river, 18 miles, for the use of the plant and roundhouse and engines at this place.

The Mass Shootings.

NEW LONDON, Ct., Oct. 30.—The date for the government trial of the ram Ketchikan was fixed Tuesday for Thursday next. The court of star chamber has not been decided upon. The ram's trial Tuesday morning as a preliminary trial was satisfactory.

Run by a Cable Train.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A cable train, which was run by the S. & C. Co., an old citizen who was president of the Bankers and Merchants' association and prominent in the city, was killed Tuesday night by a cable train at North Clark and Hagan street.

Now at Hagan.

NABASKA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Now has been falling here since 3 p.m. Tuesday morning and Tuesday night. The water is in such deep places in an inch deep. The storm is the heaviest in many years for this section.

Obelisk Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

AS OTHERS SEE US.

back I noticed that I was walking upon a wealth of fossiliferous rock that would set a geologist crazy. Almost everybody knows that the Valley of the Ohio was once the bed of a vast ocean, and that thousands upon thousands of centuries elapsed before the tops of the hills came above water and the river bed cut out its present channel. I was surprised, however, to find among the thousands of petrifid clamshells, periwinkles, scallops - other crustacea, unmistakable fossil coral, in branches and sponge-shaped pieces, pointing to the fact that not only I am ocean over the spot where I stood, but a tropical ocean at that. I gathered a number of specimens of this coral, and took particular pains to carry down with me one chunk of rock, ten pounds in weight, which very nearly caused me to break my neck during my descent.

Arrived at the summit I found the wind blowing a hurricane, so that it was difficult to keep from being wafted bodily over the brink and down into the valley. The view that stretched out to the Eastward was grand and expansive, well worth the half hour's climb to enjoy. To the Westward, however, I could not get a satisfactory view, owing to the smoke from the city.

That view Eastward took in a panorama of over 30 miles in radius. Truly, the river itself was hidden by the hills at the first turn. I got a very satisfactory view, which is here reproduced. I found the descent easy enough - too easy. I slipped at one point and slid 50 feet, bringing with me the debris of centuries, and was deposited in a thicket in a bed of fossilized clam shells.

SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION.

Yesterday was the second day for those who were out of the city or who were sick on the regular Registration Day in October to appear before the County Clerk and register.

Below is the number recorded, with their political affiliation:

	Rep.	Dem.	Not Given.
First Ward.....	3	2	3
Second Ward.....	2	3	3
Third Ward.....	2	3	3
Fourth Ward.....	3	3	3
Fifth Ward.....	3	3	3
Totals.....	9	13	9

At the regular registration last month 1,450 registered, as against a total of 1,407 the year before, making the aggregate 17 short of last year, and of these 585 were Republicans, 334 Democrats, 83 scattering and 298 gave no party affiliation.

At the close of yesterday, and we have so far 628 Republicans, 374 Democrats, and 314 of no party, the increase being 92 over last year's full registration, with to day to go on.

DAMERON ON TRIAL.

Rehearing of the case in the Federal Court at Louisville.

The old case against Wayne Dameron, charged with using the mails for fraudulent purposes, was begun in the United States Court Monday morning at Louisville. Dameron was tried at the last term of court and the jury failed to agree. The trial of the case will consume four or five days and possibly a week.

At the former trial stenographic reports were taken of the testimony of the large number of witnesses. These reports are being carefully gone over by the attorneys for both sides.

The case against Dameron is connected with that of "Wild" Hall, who was convicted at the last term of the Federal Court, and who is now serving a term in the Penitentiary for the crime. Hall, as was proved, secured a large quantity of goods from various dealers throughout the country by writing to them for big bills, including a long list of people as references, among them being several Louisville merchants. Dameron, it is claimed, was a partner in the scheme. Much of the goods was delivered to him, it is claimed.

Another charge is that Dameron was among those who induced Hall, and that he took the goods secured in this way and sold them. Dameron was admitted to bond during the trial.

The scene of the alleged operations is in and about Callettsburg.
